

NEW BOOK

Please ORDER TODAY!

2 disc AudioCD is now available with book

Please visit our website

www.bendanderson.com

THIS IS A "MUST READ" FOR EDUCATORS, PROFESSIONALS
STUDENTS AND FAMILIES

Read some reviews from readers

"As a mother of a child "labeled" as having a disability, I feel Ben Anderson's "IQ of 63 - So What!" is a must reading for parents and professionals of individuals with disabilities. Rarely are the experiences of having a disability and its impact on one's life so simply yet eloquently retold as through the direct, honest voice of Ben Anderson. You will find yourself cheering for Ben through every page as he expertly leads the reader through the up's and down's of the life of a person born with cerebral palsy in the 1950's. If you or someone you love has ever been told to "give up" or "be realistic" about their dreams: you need to read this book." Sandra Padmanabhan, Ph.D

Break Through Mission:

Since 1978 our mission has been to expand awareness of and sensitivity towards persons with disabilities. We will motivate people of all abilities not only to work with others, but to encourage one another as well! Ben D. Anderson

Speaker on Disabilities-Advocate-Disability Awareness
Providing Presentations & Training Programs

- * Many speaking and training programs available.
- * Themes focus on diversity, motivation, sensitivity training.

Contact Break Through Inc.

To engage Ben to speak at your conference, workshop,
or as a keynote speaker

Programs can be personalized to your specific needs or we can develop a new one to fit your situation

email:by@bendanderson.com

(715) 554-1179

Libraries, Schools, Professionals

Order the book today

online at www.bendanderson.com or order multiple copies at a discount via order form on back or email us at

by@bendanderson.com

"This book is a "must read" for all folks that will be interacting with people with disabilities - which should be ALL of us. Ben's very thoughtful look at himself and realization that things should and could have been different if he were born later in the Century, is a sensitive way to deal with the issue of neglect and discrimination in our educational system and society. Ben is a survivor!! Miraculously, his determination and will were not stifled and he is able to "make a difference" in the lives of those he comes into contact with. He has spoken to thousands of students in the classes in teacher preparation at UW-Stout. His message is clear as he shares "his story" and then explains to the students why Inclusion in the classroom is so important for students with disabilities. He is an inspiration and a strong advocate for those with disabilities and their parents and the teachers that willingly teach them". Lynn LaVenture-Instructor, UW-Stout

"This book is so helpful in understanding what it's like to grow up with a disability from a personal perspective, that I use it as a required textbook at UW-Stout in the Psycho Social Aspects of Disability course. Many of my students have commented how much they enjoyed reading the book and the insights they have gained from it. I'm very thankful for all of the hard work and advocacy that Ben has done and continues to do on behalf of persons with disabilities."

Kyle A. Kleist - Instructor, UW-Stout

Ben's story gives us more than a message to think about, it provides a tool for us to teach and learn from". Donna Halverson, fifth grade teacher

Read more about Ben and read the reviews about his new book

Read about his non-profit organization he founded to provide awareness training. He has spoken around the Country of over 30 years.

He is also available to give workshops/book signings and presentations for any event you may have. Please email us at

by@bendanderson.com

"And easy but profound read which is important as it can be shared with people of all intellectual levels. It really touches home for those who are raising children with disabilities as it allows for the perspective that children would love to share but many times can't for a variety of reasons. The quintessential story of the value vs. detriment of labels. Yes, they can help drive services, but they can also create boxes that are hard to break out of. Thanks for your continuing work on behalf of those who live daily with the reality, difficulty and joys of disability."—Jennifer Newhouse, Parent to Parent Coordinator, Washington State

"Ben Anderson is a remarkable man. He has established lofty goals for himself and has achieved them. Ben's relationships with his friends and his presentations to thousands of persons over the years have brought positive turnabouts in how we view and interact with individuals with disabilities. Ben's book is a mirror into his life from infancy to this day. We meet the persons who saw the true Ben and those who placed upon him the lowest of expectations. We encounter Ben's hopes, faith and persistence. Those attributes provide a lesson for ours. This book deserves a wide audience and discussion over many cups of coffee!" —(Rev) Harvey Stower, Mayor, Amery, Wisconsin

Book Order Form

Full name/organization/school: _____

Contact person name: _____

Street or PO Box Address: _____

City _____ State/Province _____ Zip code _____

Email: _____

Phone number/s _____

Shipping address (if different than above) _____

Please send the following: "IQ of 63, So What!"

Going Beyond Everybody Else's Expectations

By Ben D. Anderson

ISBN 13: 978-0-615-15257-8

Sale 25% off (retail price $20.00)

Cost each $15.00 plus $3.00 shipping (up to 4 books) Add $5.00 each if 2 disc Audio CD is ordered (Sale will be $20. each plus $3.00 S/H for book and audio) audio sold only with book order

Discount cost for libraries/schools/organizations/professionals

Orders of 4-9 books it is $12.00 each plus S/H ($19.00 w/2 disc audio CD)

Orders of 10 or more it is $10.00 each plus S/H ($16. w/2 disc audio CD)

Quantity required _____ Total amount due _____

Payment details: Please make check or money order payable to:

Break Through Inc.

Please return this form to:

Ben D. Anderson|

2054 11th Ave SE, Unit B

Rochester, MN 55904

Please allow 2-3 weeks for delivery

This book is a textbook at two universities- University of Wisconsin-Stout, Menomonie, WI & Minot State University, Minot, North Dakota.